BY GUS MALBERT.

Hats off, everybody, to Patsy Donovan, the only original, double-ringed brand of flinger yet brought from the some modern Moses, led the wandering Colts out of the slough of defent yesterday, sending their colors broadast to the breezes which didn't blow a little bit at Broad Street Park. But be that as it may, let the gladsome tidings go forth that Patsy pitched Sullivan's wilted whirlers to victory after six straight defeats, and, he didn't showed themselves to be gooseful to the proud and haughty Shoemakers. Colonel Stocksdale looking on the while. The score was 3 to 1.

Lest we forget the gentle reminder its given that Patsy had in his wake eight of the truest and best assistants which have ever gone to battle with a husky portpaw. Not even the semblance of an error could be noted during the nine innings, while all manner of fielding stunts added gusto to the occasion. Truck Egan covered himself with giory. Baker made the girls proud of him; Cowan absolutely atomed for anything that he did in the opener, Martin was everywhere on the diamond, spearing meant-to-be hits, and Sullivan picked twisters out of the air with the easy nonchalance of a debutante of three seasons.

There was absolutely nothing doing until the eighth, not a Colt getting as far as second base, due entirely to some mighty fast fielding behind livuck. Baker beat out an infield drive in the eighth, and McCabe again sacrificed him to second. He scored on Egan's him to second. He scored on Egan's drive to centre, adding the last tally
